

Admissions Visits

Washington State colleges and universities want to visit you! Admissions counselors from the following colleges and universities are willing to come to your site and work with your students on all two-year and four-year college applications – not just those from their respective universities. If you are interested, please contact the listed staff person to set up visits at a date and time that work best for you. Many colleges and university admissions staff tour high schools in the fall, so don't wait to get on their calendar!
